

A WONDERFUL SURPRISE SALE OF MILLINERY.

We find ourselves the victims of circumstances. Our purchases of holiday goods have begun to arrive and we are compelled to make room for them--therefore this Seasonable Sacrifice of Fine Millinery.

Saturday will offer the greatest buying advantages in this Department, ever experienced in Roswell--Prices have been made with no regard to cost whatever, the only object is to clean up--make room-- and do it quick. Ladies who contemplate making any purchases in this line before Christmas cannot afford to let this opportunity pass unheeded. The reduction applies to all our finest Dress as well as Street Hats.

Every Hat and Trimming Material Reduced 25 to 50 per cent.

While our trade in this line for the season has been unusually large--yet there are many beautiful creations of the trimmer's art awaiting those who take advantage of this great sacrifice Saturday--though we cannot expect them to last long, and in order to have the benefit of a complete stock to choose from we suggest an early call. Come when the doors are opened Saturday Morning, the Seventh, and see to your own satisfaction that this is truly amoney saving opportunity on seasonable stylish goods.

Many men and women were turned away from the Baptist tent last night because all available space was filled by the time the services began. Rev. Young preached from the text: "No man liveth unto himself; no man dieth unto himself." The burden of the sermon was "the power of influence," and the speaker counseled all the men especially to stop drifting and yield an influence on the side of a higher moral standard. The sermon was one of power and resulted in bringing several men to the resolution to throw their influence on the side of the right.--Douglas International Daily.

Pastor C. C. Young of the Baptist church returned home Thursday. He has been for three weeks in a revival meeting in Douglas, Arizona. The meeting was great in power and influence. Had never been a revival in the town, two years old and 5,000 people. Rev. Young has already been engaged to go back next year for meetings in Douglas, Naco and Bisbee. This country is the richest copper mining district in the west and the towns are growing and prosperous. People want and need the gospel and soon these towns will have handsome churches and large congregations. Rev. Young says no place is so delightful in all the west as Roswell.
